Novels of the 1800s

Pride and Prejudice was written by Jane Austen and published in 1813. It follows Elizabeth Bennet and her changing opinion of the proud Mr Darcy. Frankenstein was written by Mary Shelley and first published in 1818. Its main character is the scientist Victor Frankenstein.

The sea and the stage

Moby-Dick was written by Herman Melville and published in 1851. The story is told by a sailor who asks the reader to call him Ishmael, and it follows Captain Ahab’s hunt for a white whale. Hamlet is a play by William Shakespeare. It is set at the castle of Elsinore in Denmark.

A detective

Sherlock Holmes was created by Arthur Conan Doyle. He first appeared in the novel A Study in Scarlet, published in 1887. Holmes lives at 221B Baker Street in London and works with his friend Doctor John Watson.